Officer Training: More Than Just the Basics!

By Arlene Fuller

Officer trainings are held at the beginning of the 4-H year to help all club officers become acquainted with their job in their respective clubs. Learning about the roles and responsibilities of an officer, in a supportive and hands on environment makes, the whole process exciting and fun.

The annual officer training, which is held in both Ukiah and on the Coast utilizes experienced leaders and youth to lead breakout and group sessions with lots of opportunities to participate.

The day starts out with fun games and activities that officers can take back and share with their clubs. The focus is to provide members with skills they can use to make meetings effective and efficient. Basic parliamentary procedure are covered and everyone goes home knowing how to make and pass a motion. Short breakout sessions for the primary officers allow participants to become familiar with the basic skills and feel competent and prepared.

You don't need to be elected as an officer to attend— all are welcome. You must RSVP if you plan to attend.

In Fort Bragg
September 27, 9:30– 12:30 p.m. at Bethel Baptist Church, call 961-2508

In Ukiah
October 4, 9:30-12:30 p.m. at the 4H Office, call 463-4495

Mendocino County Teams Receive State 4-H "Golden Clover Award"

The annual Golden Clover Awards recognize outstanding achievement of 4-H members, volunteers, 4-H program staff, and groups within the 4-H YDP.

"Have Team Building Games ... Will Travel", was a grant created by Placer County Program Representative June Stewart. Her vision fostered others in the state to collaborate and create a workbook of teambuilding activities which will be distributed throughout the state.

Participants tested and researched activities then practiced games, songs and skits prior to attending a weekend retreat held in Shasta County in May. At the retreat they tested the activities and assembled prop boxes. The 4-H members came from the ranks of All Stars, Hi 4-Hers, Teen Leaders and accompanied by 4-H staff and volunteers from Humboldt, Mendocino, Nevada, Placer, and Siskiyou Counties. Linda Edgington, Trenton Phillips, and Tessa Behnke represented the inland group at the retreat and they all came back inspired and reported they had an incredible time. They were asked to also help present the kit at a workshop at the State Leadership Conference in August that was held in Davis.

The coast group represented by Arlene Fuller, Miles Everett, Carol Kwase, Holly Kirkman, Anthony Gay, Ben Peterson, Kody Ostler, and Amy Green was not able to attend the retreat. Instead they videotaped their selected games and activities. All the participants had been in the videography project and enjoyed the challenge of producing the DVDs that were sent to the retreat to be included in the kits.

The Team Building Kits are available at both 4-H officers. Come and see what's in the kit and get some good ideas for your meetings. Congratulations to everyone!

Fort Bragg 4-H Club Submitted by Veronica Weaver

As the 2007-2008 4-H year comes to a close Fort Bragg 4-H goes out with a bang and turns around with just as much enthusiasm to kick off the New Year with our theme, "Looking Back and Moving Forward." We welcome our newcomers and the excitement of starting again fresh. There was a small turnout for the 4-H Beach event, but everyone who came had a great day with sand castle contests, swimming, and games.

We had quite a few members showing animals and different exhibits at the Redwood Empire Fair this year, and had a fair booth for our club. Congratulations to everyone for your hard work and effort. The Fort Bragg 4-H members had sheep, swine, beef, dairy goats, rabbits, poultry, and different still exhibits at the fair.

Congratulations to:

- Stacey and Myles for Leader and Advisor of the Year
- The 4-H Beef group for winning clean stall award
- Wyatt Anderson for winning Best of Show Collections, Decorated Cake, Lego's and Champion Bantam Duck
- Breanna Bernadini for Champion Hereford Market Hog
- Wesley Meacham for Champion Berkshire Market Hog
- Kelsey Price for Champion Spot Market Hog
- Richard Daniels for Reserve Champion Ram
- Mallory Weaver for Champion Jr. Dairy Goat, Reserve Champion Sr. Goat, Reserve Champion Supreme Dairy Goat, Champion Navajo Churro Ewe, and for participating in Large Animal Round Robin this year
- Dominique Weaver for Reserve Champion Navajo Churro Ram
- Tanisha Norvell for Best in Show Scrapbook

And a huge thanks to all of our leaders and parents, we couldn't do it without you!!!

At the fair our club was in charge of the Barnyard

Olympics which spanned over three days and included the cow patty toss, needle in a hay stack, water balloon toss, cracker eating contest, wheelbarrow races, and sack races. A few of our club members and some other members from different clubs got together and put on a dance Saturday night, which we hopefully can enjoy next year too.

Members are busy preparing for the new 4-H year and enrollment this week, finishing up with end of the year paper work and record books. Some members are also preparing to enter exhibits in the upcoming Boonville Fair, so good luck!

Ukiah Valley Shamrock Club Submitted by Nadine Boer

We are just completing our second year – still growing, having fun and always learning. Our club, with the tremendous assistance from leaders Kelly Boesel and Rhonda Gournon, put together the Mendocino County 4-H information booth at the Redwood Empire Fair. The booth had many interested visitors, and we were able to answer many questions regarding 4-H. Linda Edgington suggested making "Dirt Babies", and they were a huge success! The club sends many thanks to Blue Ribbon Pets, Mendocino County Farm Supply, Poma TV, and Ag Unlimited for their donations of supplies for the booth.

We also gratefully acknowledge the assistance of the Fort Bragg, Mendocino Spartans, Long Valley, and Potter Valley 4-H clubs for taking shifts in the booth during the long 4 days and to Francine Hines who organized shift schedule prior to the opening.

Many thanks to Julie Fetherston for help in setting up, taking down and for always asking if she could assist us in any way.

The booth effort showed that many heads, hearts, and hands make light and rewarding work. We were surprised with a third place ribbon for the booth! We already have lots of ideas for next year's fair. Please come join us!

Breanna Weaver's 4-H Story

A Decade of 4-H Fun

When I look back on the ten years I have spent in 4-H, filled with love, laughter, tears, and growth I wouldn't do it any other way. My name is Breanna Weaver, I am eighteen years old and for the past eleven years 4-H has been a huge part of me and my family's life.

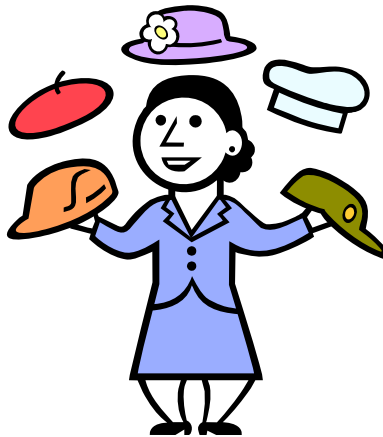

When my sister and I joined 4-H, back in 1997 we never knew how much of an impact it would have on us. More importantly, my parents had no idea that over the next eleven years their scheme to get us involved in our new community would entail sheep, horses, pigs, rabbits, goats, chickens, ducks, dogs, cats, and of course Leroy, my Giant Peking duck.

In 4-H everything was a stepping stone and there was a lot more than just animals to keep me busy. Over the years I've participated in earth day, helping kids to plant seeds, dug up ferns from our garden to help plant a feature garden at the fair, and became the director of the annual Mendocino Lake 4-H camp; probably the event nearest and dearest activity to my heart.

At camp every year youth take on huge leadership positions and run the camp for a week. While we think it's the campers who are growing the most, deep down I know it's really us who learn from the experience. Programs like this really demonstrate to me the heart and soul of the program.

As a teen I know it is truly unique when that type of trust and respect is given to you, and it is probably the greatest compliment I have ever received.

More than anything, 4-H is about hands on learning and the programs I have participated in demonstrate just that. Last year I exhibited in the Redwood Empire fair, where for the first time I showed my own stock, bred on my ranch, "BMW Pines." Standing in the ring when my goat was chosen as the Grand Champion Breeder and my market goat won first in his class was one of the highlights of my 4-H career. I did it myself, with my own sweat and hard work.

I'd like to think that 4-H was merely a catalyst for everything else I have done; it taught me the skills I needed for the future and now it is sending me on my way. 4-H has taught me how to juggle sports, Mock Trial, advanced placement classes, holding the office of club and student body president, and a social life without completely losing my mind. Because no one ever juggled for me, or told me how to do it, I therefore learned how to do it myself. Yet more importantly it taught me how to let others do it for themselves. This year, after many years, and many offices I chose to sit back and watch the younger generation take on the club. It was a hard decision to make, yet I know that leadership does not require a title. It's something you exhibit everyday and I will continue to do so throughout my life.

As my high school days come to an end I look toward the future and what it holds for me. I have recently accepted an offer to attend college in Smithfield, Rhode Island at Bryant University. It is by far my largest endeavor, quite honestly I am scared to death. Yet 4-H has instilled in me a sense of adventure I know will help me to succeed.

I know this fall, as I sit in a classroom and study international business I will think of the fond memories I have made in this program.

I would like to thank all of the people, leaders, advisors, judges and kids who have touched my heart and been a part of my 4-H family. You all are truly amazing and I am eternally grateful.
